

Call for submissions for the Teaching Award of the Trier University of Applied Sciences 2021: Convey the basics in an exciting and sustainable manner

Ensuring the quality of teaching and its continuously expanding is a central concern of the Trier University of Applied Sciences. The University has been awarding a € 3,000 teaching award since 2017 and used this to honour the work of committed teachers and to present innovative and exciting teaching ideas to the public.

Basic courses represent a special challenge in university teaching and are often viewed as a "chore" for both teachers and students. We are looking for ideas or existing events that address this problem and try to convey the necessary fundamentals of a subject in an exciting and sustainable way.

All members of the Trier University of Applied Sciences are entitled to propose the teaching award. Proposals can be submitted informally by October 15, 2021

- stating the lecturer
- the department
- the title of the course and the
- Presentation of the concept submitted on a maximum of 3 pages to lehrpreis@hochschule-trier.de. Existing courses as well as idea sketches for new teaching ideas are possible.

All proposals are judged according to the following criteria:

- Didactics: Is a didactic concept recognizable? Here in particular:
  - Innovation: How does the event differ from conventional basic events? And why?
  - Sustainability: How is the student's learning success ensured?
- Sustainability of the concept: Can the teaching idea be transferred to other events / subject areas with reasonable effort?

In addition, the experiences made should be presented in the case of concepts that have already been implemented. In the case of new teaching ideas, the expected value should be stated. Entries that have already applied but have not yet received an award will also be accepted.

The selection committee consists of representatives of the university management, quality management, university didactics and a student representative. The award ceremony is expected to take place on the Day of Teaching in 2022.

If you have any questions, please contact Ms. Anneke Wolf eMail: [a.wolf@hochschule-trier.de Tel.: 0651-8103-526]

Website of the teaching award: <https://www.hochschule-trier.de/go/lehrpreis>