Random Samples for the Exclusion of Double Funding / Duration of Storage

Based on § 4.2 of the StipG, the Bundesministerium für Bildung und Forschung (BMBF) conducts random tests using the data of the scholarship holders to prevent double funding. In order to conduct this search, the BMBF may retrieve, store, and compare your name, surname, date of birth, address, and university with the data of other funding institutions. Trier University of Applied Sciences is legally obliged to transmit this data. After the sample testing, the data is destroyed.

For these purposes, the data will be stored for 6 years from the end of the grant if you are selected for the scholarship program. If your application is unsuccessful, your data will be stored for 18 months at most in order to simplify a new application in the following selection process.

2. Application Instructions

Online Application Form:

Apart from the required fields, it is up to you which details you hand in and with which information you present yourself as a candidate for the scholarship. In the selection process, we can only consider those details in your favor that are presented to us and that are verified by corresponding evidence. For this reason, we recommend that you also answer the questions in the online form that are not compulsory as completely as possible.

In my answer to "Special personal and family circumstances", I refer to the following definition regarding "migration background": "Did you or at least one of your parents migrate to the present territory of the Federal Republic of Germany after 1949 or did you migrate to another country?"

The following documents are mandatory:

- Letter of motivation (max. 2 pages),
- Curriculum vitae in tabular form,
- Copy of your qualification to enter university; for foreign certificates, a translation into the German system and conversion into the German grade system (uni-assist document; students enrolled in the degree program Sustainable Business and Technology are required to hand in the letter of admission of the degree program Sustainable Business and Technology instead of the uni-assist document).

- If applicable, proof of a special qualification that qualifies for your studies at Trier University of Applied Sciences,
- If applicable, proof of an aptitude test according to § 66 HochSchG,
- Confirmation of enrolment for the upcoming winter semester (Immatrikulationsbescheinigung; for first semester students: letter of approval or enrolment confirmation),
- Copy of your Bachelor's degree certificate (only if you are enrolled for a Master's degree),
- For students that have completed at least one semester: Proof of your academic performance so far (grades including ECTS points; to be obtained via QIS or in the student office/examination office).

Your application may include the following proofs (certificates, notifications, official documents, references) as required:

- Professional qualifications and references, internships, work experience
- Special achievements, awards and prizes
- Further qualifications and acquirements
- Social commitment and volunteer work, such as social work, taking an active role in clubs, societies, religious communities etc.
- Special family circumstances, such as caring for your own children or for sick relatives
- Factors which have had an aggravating or impeding impact on your educational career to date

Information without the corresponding evidence cannot be considered in the selection process.

Your application may be in German or English. If your application documents are in a third language, an officially certified translation into German must be added.

Instructions for Uploading the Attachments:

- If possible, please upload all documents in one pdf-file. (To create pdf documents and to combine several pdf documents you can use for example the following free software: PDFCreator).
